Fall is here already! Ignoring the recent rain and wind storm, we continue to have beautiful weather. The tree leaves are beginning to turn into their fall colors and soon will create a glorious kaleidoscope of analogous hues. Perfect for taking photographs and capturing the spirit of the season on canvas.

Speaking of seasons our fall show "Art's in Season" is only a little over a month away. The show will be on display at Dean College's beautiful Campus Center (off of Main Street, to the left of the Franklin Library). There is plenty of parking in the rear of the building, which can be accessed from Emmons Street. This year the work of our members will be on display for two days, November 24th and 25th. There will be another change as well. We will be separating the oil and acrylic paintings into two categories. The show prospectus will be sent out very soon, so it's time to start thinking about which of your masterpieces you are going to enter in the show and if you haven't already renewed your membership please do so before the show entry date.

As always, our fall show's success depends on your participation including artwork entries, bin sale artwork, scholarship raffle donations, small picture silent auction pieces and volunteering your time to work on the show. Without volunteers the show can't go on. Apart from having a great opportunity to show and sell your work, the fall and spring shows are our primary fund raisers that we need to keep our association financially sound.

For those members who submitted work to the open juried show at Premier Image Gallery, please plan to pick up your paintings on September 29th, between 9 am and 5 pm.

Our talented FAA members were well represented in number and awards at the Hopedale Cultural Council annual art show "A Day in the Park". Hopedale will also be having their Octoberfest celebration on September 29, from 7 am to 9 pm. FAA members who are also members of the Blackstone Valley Art Association will be exhibiting their work at Hopedale's Bancroft Library. See the BVAA web site (<http://bvaa.org/BVAA/Home>) for more information.

I look forward to seeing you at our meeting October 3rd, when we will be entertained by a very talented and fun loving demonstration artist Lavonne Suwalski. I'm sure you will enjoy her presentation and her beautiful, colorful and playful images.

Take care,
Frank
